

It is hard to believe that November is already here. We have had a great week with Thompson Pay for A's, some super creative and fun Halloween costumes worn by the students, and a highly successful after school dance and game day. Here is the rest of our weekly update.

1. 9th grade boys and girls basketball tryouts are Wednesday, November 7th. Please contact coach Bilbao or Price if you have any questions.

2. After weeks and weeks of rehearsals, our school play is finally here for the fall. The Odyssey will be performed on November 8th, 9th, and 12th. Tickets are $3 presale (at the financial office or online at www.myschoolfees.com) and $4 at the door. This show has been adapted for Junior High Performances and will run approximately 1 hour and 15 minutes.

3. Our vision for learning continues to adapt and improve as we as a faculty increase our own understanding of how to best engage students in learning. We continue to find better ways to not only help students learn content, but also to use our content to help students develop the critical skills of collaboration, communication, critical thinking, creativity, citizenship, and character.

4. Special thanks to our Student Council, Latinos in Action, and National Junior Honors Society for a very well attended dance and game day on Halloween after school.

5. Congratulations to Mrs. Killpack and her Acapella group for a very successful fall choir festival this past Thursday.
